Nearly 500 county and law enforcement leaders will gather in Sacramento on September 21 for a one-day conference highlighting successful programs and strategies to assist in the implementation of criminal justice realignment in California.

Beginning on October 1, as mandated by AB 109, counties – rather than the state – will take responsibility for the custody, treatment, and supervision of individuals convicted of specified nonviolent, non-serious, non-sex crimes.

The September 21 conference is intended to give local officials the tools they need to succeed in managing offenders while reducing recidivism and protecting the public. Presented in partnership with the California Association of Counties, the California State Sheriffs' Association, and the Chief Probation Officers of California, the conference is sponsored by the California Endowment, The California Wellness Foundation, Public Welfare Foundation, Rosenberg Foundation, and the Women's Foundation of California.
